Problem M12

The diagram below shows a rigid bar, length L, pinned at one end, which is initially held vertical. The bar is stabilized by the pair of linear springs, stiffness k, orientated at the angle θ to the vertical. Find the critical value of the load P which will cause collapse of this assembly. Hint: Consider the equilibrium of the bar at a small displacement from the equilibrium position shown.